

INNOCUONEMA* gen. nov.

Chromadoridae: CUTICLE: punctations complex and obvious; no lateral differentiation; no other information available.

HEAD: head not set off as swollen region; dorsal onchium fairly obvious and hollow, with associated dorsal swelling of oesophagus; structure of oesophastome unknown; only outer circle of four sense organs setose; amphid not prominent; definite posterior oesophageal bulb.

MALE: gubernaculum without prominent lateral pieces; no pre-cloacal supplements or other pre-cloacal modifications; tail long and slim.

TYPE SPECIES: Graphonema flaccida Wieser, 1959.

OTHER SPECIES: I. clovosa (Wieser, 1959); I. tentabunda (de Man, 1890); I. chilensis nom nov pro Graphonema amokurooides of Wieser, 1954 non Spilophora amokurooides Allgén, 1927.

The following species are considered dubia: Chromadora suilla Allgén, 1947; C. paraheterophya Allgén, 1932; Spilophora norvegica Allgén, 1932; S. amokurooides Allgén, 1927; S. pusilla Allgén, 1947 and Chromadora spectabilis Allgén, 1932.